The Gaze

They're all looking down at us...the many saints. From their perches around the church they watch us. The saints these figures represent listen to our prayers and transport them to the feet of God, interceding for us, adding an extra punch to our prayers.

One of these 'saints' gets more of a workout than all others...Mary. Throughout Advent we regularly repeated her Magnificat. This weekend the Gospel brings her into the story of salvation full force. Next Sunday she will give us the fruit of her womb. The following Sunday she will be honored as Bogurodzica. She gazes at us from so many spots within our Shrine yet one gaze seems to tower above all others, that of the gaze from the icon of our Lady of Czêstochowa.

When Fr. Michael and I knelt before her miraculous icon enshrined in southern Poland just a few weeks back, we could never have imagined the intensity of the moment which overcame us when, after having waited for the shield to uncover this icon, her eyes finally met ours.

For me it was one of those experiences that cannot be put into words. What I experienced can only be compared to spoken in terms of simile...as though an arrow of lightening entered my body, aimed directly at my heart. What that event will mean in my life will only be uncovered as the pilgrimage unfolds, an act of 'listening' and 'surrendering.' That gaze, that flaming arrow, that love will forever be translated into more beauty...a vessel fired by suffering, gasping for more and more life as the flickering candles scattered about the high altar. The Author of Life feeds the flame...His Mother lifts it to His Sacred Heart.

DON'T BE AFRAID

Often, while preaching, I find myself giving a message to myself as much as to everyone else. Many preachers tell me they have the same kind of experience. This comes to mind when recalling the wonderful address given by Pope John Paul II as he was presented to the world as the newly elected Pope. What would YOU say as your opening speech, composed on a moment's notice? So, the Holy Father comes out with the wonderful, stirring, and simple phrase, spoken to the whole world and perhaps to himself as well. "Do not be afraid."

At that time in history, there was much to be afraid of. What would it mean to have the first non-Italian pope in hundreds of years? How would the Soviets take this? Will the missiles finally launch? But the Holy Father had more in mind.

Don't be afraid? Easier said than done.

He was encouraging his people not only to be free from fear of the obvious, but also not to fear being faithful. Don't be afraid to trust God. Don't be afraid of the truth. Don't be afraid of living your faith vibrantly and openly. Don't be afraid of what God will ask of you, because he will certainly be there to help you live it out.

The words, "Do not be afraid," come from scripture. They appear often. When Mary was asked to agree to something amazing, the angel said, "Do not be afraid." When Joseph wondered whether he should go along with it, an angel appeared to him in a dream and said, "Do not be afraid." When the angels appeared to the shepherds in the sky, their first words were, "You have nothing to fear!"

Easier said than done, though.

When I was younger, I used to love to swim and dive. But I remember my first walk out onto the high-dive board. It was summertime at the public pool. I was old enough and tall enough to be allowed by the lifeguard, and my skills were enough to handle it. Climbing up the ladder was easy, even exciting. But when I got to the edge of the diving board, which bounced and sprung with every step, I froze. I couldn't jump into the water, but I also couldn't walk back to the ladder. The kids behind me were yelling, since they wanted their turn and had already backed up four or five deep on the steps. No turning back. So, I jumped. And survived.

Faith is a lot like that.

In one week we celebrate Christmas. Mary and Joseph overcame their fears, trusted God, and human history has been changed forever. When we are called to say "Yes" to God, it's not likely that we will be changing all of human history. But it is our own history that is at stake, and through us, the history of those whose lives are entwined with our own. And that can be plenty indeed.

God calls out to each of us in our own unique ways of hearing him. God may be asking something of you at this point in your life. Perhaps you know what it is, or maybe it is still not yet clear enough. In the hectic pace of this coming week, take time to listen for the voice of God in the midst of the frenzy. And when you hear him, don't be afraid.

Fr. Michael

ZWIASTOWANIA

„Poslal Bóg aniola Gabriela do miasta w Galilei, zwanego Nazaret...”. Tekst, który znamy na pamięć; zapowiedz Narodzin... Nasze oczekiwanie powinno być szczególnie czujne, jeśli chcemy, aby to Zwiastowanie stało się nowiną. Radosna Nowina nie tylko dla Niej, Matki Boga ale i dla każdego z nas, aby również do każdego z nas dotarł głos anioła: Jakże będziecie szczęśliwi człowiecze!

Przez długi czas tłumaczono to pozdrowienie formułą wyrażającą pełen podziwu szacunek: „Zdrowas Maryjo, lasz się pełna, Pan z Toba”. To bardzo piękne słowa, nasza modlitwa. Ale egzegeci biblijni, specjaliści, którzy badają Ewangelie, przywracają o wiele mocniejsze, rzeczywiste wyrażenie użyte przez Łukasza: „Raduj się wybrana, Pan jest z Tobą”. Taka formuła nadaje Maryi - tej, która rozważa wszystko w swoim sercu - koloryt i blask mesjanskich zwiastowań. „Raduj się”: ta radość, to Bóg. „Pan jest z Tobą”: Maryja zna Pisma, jest zmieszana, wie, dokąd wiodą takie słowa, uswiadamia sobie wielką misję.

Kulminacyjny punkt tekstu: „Ten, który się narodzi, jest Synem Bożym”. Wszystko, co ewangelista Łukasz chciał powiedzieć, zawiera się w tych słowach. Dodaje on jeszcze zdanie, które ma pomóc naszej wierze: „Dla Boga nie ma nic niemożliwego”. I słyszymy - „tak” Maryi, w którym daje siebie cała, całkowicie - już nikt nigdy nie powie Bogu takiego „tak”.

Przed wszystkim jednak musimy wsłuchać się w tę radosną wieść: Mesjasz jest nam dany, Ten, który przychodzi, aby zbawić nas od wszelkiej nieprawości i niedzy. A ten Zbawiciel jest bardziej nieprawdopodobny niż najbardziej nawet szalone marzenie. Bóg sam narodzi się z kobiety, aby być człowiekiem żyjącym wśród nas! „Słowo, które jest Bogiem, stało się ciałem i zamieszkało wśród nas” - napisze św. Jan Apostoł.

Bóg wśród nas, Bóg z nami”: radość ofiarowana Maryi (raduj się!) jest radością, która jest ofiarowana nam, kiedy rozumiemy do jakiego stopnia poprzez Jezusa (i poprzez Maryję) Bóg jest z nami, Bóg jest dla nas. Kiedy Jezus staje się dla nas, przychodzi do nas - to są nasze zwiastowania. Czasem niosą radość, czasem są bolesne. Jaki anioł wyrwa nas z uspienia? Czasem jest to fragment Ewangelii albo wspaniałe spotkanie z braćmi. Czasem jest to cierpienie, które niszczy nadzieje i złudzenia. I oto nagle czujemy się wezwani do rzeczy trudniejszych i wznioslejszych. Raduj się, Pan jest z Tobą, zrodzisz swoje życie i cząstkę świata; jeśli powiesz „tak”.

Niby zasada prosta: mówić Bogu „fiat-tak” jak Maryja i kosztować jej szczęścia, ale realizacja o wiele trudniejsza, choć nie niemożliwa; to nasze zwiastowania i ich konsekwencje - to droga do prawdziwej radości.

W konsekwencji Zwiastowania Maryja „poszła z pospiechem w góry”, aby służyć pomocą swej krewnej Elżbiecie. Ten zwykły, ludzki gest jest jakimś wezwaniem w obliczu nadchodzących Świąt. Pokazuje, że pomaganie nie jest przywilejem ludzi wybranych, ale tych, którzy mają szeroko otwarte oczy i serca. Szczególnie w tym czasie, kiedy nadchodzi najbardziej rodzinne i zbliżające ludzi Świąta należy sobie zdawać sprawę, że oprócz prezentów potrzebny jest także człowiek. I pod tym względem jesteś wciąż ubodzy...

RITE OF ACCEPTANCE

At the 11:30 Mass last Sunday, several RCIA candidates and catechumens assembled publicly for the first time this year and declared their intention to become members of the Church. St. Stanislaus Church in turn, carrying out its apostolic mission, accepted them as persons who intend to become fully initiated members of our faith community.

Received into the order of Catechumens were Brian Costa, Korie Berry and Adam Thorne. Those who wished to complete their initiation into the Church through the Sacrament of Confirmation included Ryan Spurlock, Nathan Leahy, Linda A. Workman. Carolyn J. Hause is preparing to join the Catholic community. May the Holy Spirit guide them on their journey as we offer them our support.

WANNA GIVE A HAND (and legs, and arms, and backs...) FOR CHRISTMAS?

How does our church become so beautiful for Christmas, that people will drive for miles to come and visit? Folks will be scampering around the church to prepare the celebration of the coming of Our Lord. Can you give a hand to make it as nice as we like it to be? Sunday and Monday evenings are the best times.
