Exultet

The visitors to the empty tomb sing the ‘Exultet’ in one great voice. It is the ancient hymn which all of us sing each time we attend Sunday Mass as we celebrate that same feast which commemorates the triumph of light over darkness, joy over sadness. The young and the old, the homeless person in polyester rags and the wealthy one in Gucci; the chronically ill with HIV or a myriad of other illnesses and the healthy who live without the help of even an aspirin or with little concern for universal health care; the lonely who are depressed and the social butterflies who make it look like they are not alone; the skinny crack-heads and obese eating addicts; the gifted singers, the jealous singers, the bad singers and the singers who earnestly try to praise God with their voices; the jocks and the geeks—all sinners by the fault of our first parents, now all invited to the empty tomb filled with a light which invites us all to share in a new life.

The visitors include you and me, everyone on earth and everyone who has died. Adam and Eve are first in line followed closely by Moses and Aaron, David and Solomon, Isaiah and Hosea. John Paul the Great approaches the tomb along with Fr. William Gulas, together singing God’s praises. St. Theresa of Calcutta and the latest victim of cancer join hands as they sing of Christ who ransomed us with His blood. Abraham and Isaac sing to the true lamb who was slain, whose blood consecrates the homes of all believers. The valiant soldiers and veterans who gave their lives in all wars of the world sing of the pillar of fire which destroyed the darkness of sin. The children aborted before their eyes were opened to see their own fathers and mothers sing now to the one Father they see in eternity, declaring His wonderful care for them and for everyone who would have shared their love if given the chance.

The white water flowing from the pierced heart of Jesus dispels all evil, washes guilt away, restores lost innocence, brings mourners joy. It casts out hatred, brings us peace, and humbles earthly pride. The red blood which flows from that same heart weds heaven to earth as all humanity is reconciled with God. The blood is the solemn offering, the life of the lamb, which now feeds us in the Eucharist, the banquet of the Lamb.

Angels join hands with the paralyzed and those with arms blown off by bombs to raise high the flame. The blind boldly lead the light to mingle with the heavens to continue bravely burning to dispel the darkness of night. The dead of the universe rise with Christ, the Morning Star, to keep the flame of the new light burning for eternity.

This is the EXULTET we sing today and each Sunday by regular sinners as we praise the Father who raised His Son from the dead and then sent us His Holy Spirit to give us the chance to live with Him and to breathe life into all creation forever and ever!

David Krakowski

Easter: New Reality or Old Story?

We read in the gospel reading for today that the women were making their way on Easter morning to the tomb where Jesus was buried. When they got there, they encountered a problem: who will roll back the stone that had been placed at the entrance of the tomb?

Perhaps, this little story that I remember reading some time ago. A man had an angry quarrel with his father. As a result he had not spoken to his father for several years, even though he lived a couple miles down the road. He was an only child; his mother had died. So now the father was living alone. His world was getting smaller and darker with each passing day. He wasn't yet dead, but in a sense he was already in a tomb.

We marvel at the power that Jesus had to raise people from the dead, and rightly so. But did you ever think that each of us can be the same? For instance, the son in the story had the power to roll away the stone from his father's tomb. With a kind word or gesture he could set his father free from the tomb of loneliness and despair. In helping his father he would have helped himself. It is one of the great rewards of life that we cannot raise another without raising ourselves at the same time.

Easter at home was a feast filled with anticipation and gratitude. Mom and Dad provided our family of eight children with a nice, clean house; a table laden with a variety of foods—the freshly baked ham, the boiled sausage; wonderful bakery and pastry; all the Easter baskets for each of us—filled to the brim with chocolates, jelly beans, and little surprises. I remember the twenty-inch, solid chocolate Easter Bunny standing with a “bag overflowing with jelly beans” - which little by little we would carve away until it was all gone.

Easter was a new lease on life, a new start, always with the promise that through Lent we would become new and dedicated followers of the risen Christ. Weather permitting, Mom and Dad would fit all of us into the back seat of a 1940 Plymouth and we would head out to Calvary Cemetery.

On a beautiful, sunny day we would stand at the gravesite of our grandparents, reflect in silence what it must be like for them in heaven; how the rolling, green landscape reminded us of a beautiful faraway land, filled with sunlight, peace and joy, friendship and love, the company of Jesus and His Mother. Even now when I preside at a committal service at the cemetery the memories of the past evoke a longing to be reunited with those who preceded me—knowing that they have always remained a part of my life and I a part of theirs. It's always pleasant to remember our own faithful departed—even though now and then we shed a tear—not of remorse, but of sadness.

Easter reminds me of the many people that I encountered in my life—in various places, and under various circumstances. It reminds me of the brevity of life, and the never-ending gift of eternal life. It reminds me of the futility of placing our trust in material, corruptible possessions. Easter reminds me, and all of us, that we will be invited into the Kingdom prepared for us from the foundation of the world. Let this Easter be for all of us ... A New Reality, and not simply a repeat of the Old Story of our life! -

Fr. Len

Chrystus zmartwychwstał!

„A pierwszego dnia po szabacie, wczesnym rankiem, gdy jeszcze było ciemno, Maria Magdalena udała się do grobu i zobaczyła kamień odsunięty od grobu” (J 20, 1).

Ewangelia podkreśla ciemności, w których Maria Magdalena wyrusza do grobu. Niekiedy Bóg w naszym życiu dopuszcza doświadczenie ciemności.

Bóg pozwala, byśmy się duchowo załamali, łamie nas cierpieniem. Nie zawsze to rozumiemy. Widzimy to dopiero z perspektywy czasu, że inaczej nie byłoby naszego odnowienia. Muszą wprawdzie ulec zniszczeniu nasze grzeszne przyzwyczajenia, egoizm i ziemskie, krótkowzroczne myślenie. Nasza pasja, duchowa przemiana, dokonuje się w cierpieniu. Tam zaczyna się prawdziwa modlitwa, tam rodzi się prawdziwa radość. Tylko to, co dobre, powstaje w trudzie i cierpieniu.

Bóg przeprowadza swoje dzieci przez ciemności do swojego przedziwnego światła. Maria Magdalena jeszcze do tej pory nosi pogrążona jest w bólu z powodu śmierci Jezusa. Zanurzona w ciemności czuwa przy grobie. Wszystko skończone. Życie odchodzi. Rozpamiętuje śmierć umiłowanego Jezusa. Miłość przyprowadza ją do miejsca, gdzie został złożony jej Pan.

W grobie Jezusa bierze początek nowe życie. Tak samo jest w naszym życiu - na gruzach powstaje coś nowego. Wtedy dopiero jest możliwa rozbudowa świątyni ludzkiego serca.

Maria Magdalena, która czuwa przy grobie, jest zdolna przyjąć jeszcze więcej pokładów miłości, którą daje jej Jezus. Stamtąd wraca w światło dnia, po spotkaniu ze Zmartwychwstałym. Maria przechodzi od ciemności do światła. Ciemność to w sensie biblijnym rzeczywistość lęku, grzechu i śmierci. Chrystus przeprowadza ją do światła. On jest Światłem, oświecającym człowieka. Światło jest symbolem życia. Ono pozwala człowiekowi chodzić w wolności i prawdzie.

Wschodzące słońce pokazuje Marii Magdalenie odsunięty kamień. Zaniepokojona tym widokiem biegnie do uczniów. Maria biegnie do Piotra i Jana. To najbliżsi uczniowie Jezusa.

Uczniowie są pogrążeni w smutku i żałobie. Zostali sami. Nie mają przy sobie Mistrza. Piotr nie jest w stanie i iść spokojnie do grobu, po tym wszystkim, co się stało. Biegną dwaj uczniowie. Choć Jan przybywa pierwszy, czeka na Piotra, którego Jezus ustanowił pierwszym. Piotr wchodzi do środka i widzi leżące, nie porzucane płótna oraz oddzielnie zwiniętą chustę. Swoim rozumem nie może ogarnąć tego, co się stało.

Jan wszedł do grobu za Piotrem. Widzi leżące płótna i zwiniętą chustę. Ten widok go przekonuje, że nie chodzi tu o kradzież ciała Jezusa. Zobaczył i uwierzył. Jan jest apostołem miłości - uczniem, "którego Jezus kochał". Miłość jest charyzmatem. Przed wejściem do grobu Jan przepuszcza przed sobą Piotra, pozostawiając dla urzędu ocenę charyzmatu. Pusty grób staje się dla Jana źródłem wiary w słowa Jezusa i w Pisma Starego Testamentu. Jan kocha i widzi znaki. Widzi i wierzy. Tylko „umiłowany uczeń” uwierzył, zanim jeszcze zrozumiał Pisma. Spogląda na pusty grób z miłością, patrzy „oczami wiary”.

Uczmy się od Jana na wszystko patrzeć z miłością. To pozwoli nam zrozumieć więcej.

Divine Mercy Sunday

Next Sunday, April 11, is Divine Mercy Sunday. That afternoon we will have our annual Easter Mass for the Sick and Homebound along with the anointing of those who wish this service. At the end of the Mass we recite the Divine Mercy chaplet. (about 3 PM). Please get the word out to those in who might want to attend this special liturgy.

Little White Books

The 'little white books' containing reflections for the Easter season are now available at both entrances to the church.

SAVE THE DATE!

The annual Four Eagle Award Banquet and Silent Auction will be held on Friday, May 7, 2010, at 6 pm in the Social Center. The cost of a ticket will be $65. The Four Eagle event is celebrated in order to give recognition to individuals or groups who have demonstrated outstanding commitment to the Saint Stanislaus community. This year we will honor the late Mel Kurtz, for the Kurtz Family, founders of Kurtz Brothers, Inc.; and the late Rich DiGeronimo, for the DiGeronimo Family, founders of Precision Environmental and Independence Excavating. These family-owned companies have been helpful in many ways, especially in donating much toward the recent razing of the former convent and with ongoing work in our school. Without their help, we would still be struggling with that concern. Instead, we are able to prepare a beautiful park in honor of the Nazareth Sisters who served here for over a century.

This is also one of the major fundraisers for our parish. These funds are raised to support the continued advancement of the spiritual, educational, and cultural mission of this shrine parish. We have so much to be thankful for and know so many in need. So, save the date! Make room for delicious food, save money for wonderful auction items, and talk to your friends (both inside and outside the parish) to reserve a table for this fun event. More information will be forthcoming. Mark May 7 on your calendar and join us in the Social Center.

ST. STANS HISTORICAL FACT by Rob Jagelewski.

Our parish takes up a collection for the St. Vincent de Paul Society every month. Upon his ordination as a priest, Vincent's life was dedicated to the corporal and spiritual works of mercy, most notably among the sick, the poor, and the galley prisoners of France. In order to meet these needs, Vincent founded the Congregation of Missions, more commonly known as the Vincentians. The priests worked among the poor in missions and helped establish seminaries to provide proper education for future clergy. Our local St. Vincent de Paul chapter at Holy Name Church takes its name from Frederic Ozanam. He was inspired by Vincent's work and in 1832 he created the St. Vincent de Paul Society. This Society, made up of laymen and women, quietly performs the corporal works of mercy among the poor in local parishes.
