STARTS
NEXT WEEKEND!

"Lord God, I give you thanks for the wonderful gift of calling me, a sinner, to religious life as a Franciscan Friar. I firmly resolve to renew my vows to live my whole life in obedience, without anything of my own, and in chastity, according to the Rule of Saint Francis confirmed by Pope Honorius and the Constitutions of our Order. Lord, give me the grace to live for you alone in Gospel simplicity and joy. Immaculate Virgin Mary, Holy Father Francis, intercede for me and the whole Franciscan family. Amen."

The above words were spoken by Fr. Michael this past Sunday at the 11:30 Mass celebrating his silver jubilee as a Franciscan friar. As he prepares to take on his new assignment (one of them) as Vocation Director, he will need our help. We share the responsibility for guiding worthy candidates to the Franciscan Order, and we can do this with our mouths, our eyes and our hands! That is how Jesus can get things done here on earth! If for a second you think your prayers and actions are not needed you are wrong. It is extremely important that we show how Jesus lives in us! We invited Him into our lives and now our actions, i.e, loving others and caring about each other, can show the world that He is using us as His vessels of love in service to the world. Keep your eyes opened, talk about vocations, kindly direct good men to Fr. Michael so the Franciscan work can continue in God's vineyard.

SOLID AS THE ROCK

The above caption, as you well know, refers to Saint Peter, the great apostle and first Pope of the Catholic Church.

Thanks to Patrick Marrin, editor of Celebration publication, I am able to present a few thoughts for reflection about Peter the Apostle. We will meet him in the next three

Sunday gospel readings: Peter walking on the water, Peter proclaiming Jesus as the Messiah and being called the rock and keeper of the keys, and Peter being sharply rebuked for resisting Jesus' prediction of his coming suffering and death.

We know much about Peter from the other stories: his call to leave fishing to become Jesus' most trusted disciple; the story of the miraculous catch of fish; the healing of his mother-in-law; his presence at the Transfiguration with James and John; at the Last Supper and his reluctance to have Jesus wash his feet; his triple denial of Jesus; and his key role as witness to the Resurrection. He is mentioned in the Acts of the Apostles.

Peter left us all lessons in humble leadership. He possessed many strengths and many weaknesses, but he retained and passed on to us the mind and heart of Christ.

In the year 64, as we all know from history, We know that the madman, Nero, had all "subversives", the poor in the slums, the slaves, etc. rounded up and put to death in various ways. Peter was no exception. There he was in a cell, lying awake through the night, praying silently, listening to the other prisoners in adjoining cells, many weeping out of fear, others offering encouragement, even leading the rest in familiar hymns. Peter was a high-value prisoner, the leader of the outlawed sect.

From stumbling block to cornerstone, Simon Peter had lived the gospel he would announce to others. This was why Jesus appointed him leader. They would see in his face the same look of love Jesus had shown him and know that he was telling the truth. "Don't be afraid. God's love has pursued you even in your sin, found you and given you new life."

Simon Peter felt relieved to know that the end of life was near. His long life and labors spanned worlds and, it seemed, several lifetimes, beginning in Galilee, grounded in his intense Jewish faith, then exploding into the larger, diverse cultures in Antioch, expanding even further during the missionary years across Asia Minor, the cities of Greece and onto Rome.

Peter watched as the church he helped to form moved slowly past the bars of his cell. He found his thoughts turning to the future when the greatest danger would not be persecution but success. Both the scriptures and the Greek storytellers had it right: Adversity builds character, but if you really want to know what people are like, give them power.

Soldiers were at the door of his cell. A rough wooden cross lay on the blood-soaked sand of the arena, where the first group of Christians were struck down. Peter thought about the humility Jesus had shown, the Beloved Son accepting the death of a slave, teaching, always teaching, right up to the last moment.

He approached the cross, knelt and stretched his body on it upside down, facing the imperial box. How can I imitate the Master and leave a final lesson about the kind of leader he taught me to be?

SPOTKANIE (1/4)

Spotkanie, o którym chcę opowiedzieć, wydarzyło się siedem lat temu. W tym dniu stałem się częścią historii życia Sary Ashran. Nasze drogi zeszyły się nie bez zrządzenia Bożej Opatrzności w czasie Mszy św. we wspomnienie św. Teresy Benedykty od Krzyża (Edyty Stein) 9 sierpnia 2004 roku, dokładnie 7 lat temu. W tym czasie pracowałem w Eggenfelden. Jest to stare, bo sięgające dwunastego wieku miasteczko w Dolnej Bawarii, oddalone zaledwie 22 km od Markt am Inn, gdzie przyszedł na świat Józef Ratzinger, obecny Ojciec św. Benedykt XVI.

Ponieważ w dni powszednie była tylko jedna Msza św., odprawialiśmy ją razem w przyklasztornej świątyni o godz. 8:00 rano. Wspomnianego dnia przypadło mi przewodniczenie koncelebry. We wstępie wspominałem o postaci św. Teresy Benedykty od Krzyża. Urodzona we Wrocławiu, żydowskiego pochodzenia, obywatelka Niemiec, łączyła w sobie miłość dla swojego narodu z patriotyzmem w stosunku do ziemskiej ojczyzny, gdzie przyszło jej żyć. Jednak motywem przewodnim w jej życiu było umiłowanie prawdy. Szukając prawdy, odnalazła Prawdę – Jezusa, Brata według krwi i Mesjasza oczekiwanego przez Żydów. Edith Stein rozumiała posłannictwo swego życia podobnie do biblijnej Estery, która narażała swe życie wstawiając się do króla za swoim narodem. Św. Teresa oddała Bogu swe życie jako ofiarę zarówno za lud wybrany Starego Przymierza, jej braci i siostry co do ciała, jak i za Niemców, naród, którego była obywatelką, a który prześladował ją i jej rodaków.

Po Mszy św. podeszła do mnie uczestnicząca w niej kobieta i poprosiła o chwilę rozmowy. Droga jej życia niosła w sobie podobieństwo do Patronki dnia. Urodziła się w Niemczech i miała żydowskie pochodzenie. Jej rodzice zginęli z rąk Niemców prawdopodobnie w Auschwitz. Ona cudem uniknęła śmierci. Kiedy hitlerowcy przyszli do ich domu, zabrali rodziców i rodzeństwo, dziewczynka zamarła ze strachu niczym głąz – nie poruszyła się ani nie wydała żadnego głosu. I to ją ocaliło. Ci, którzy przyszli zabrać jej rodzinę, nie zauważyli jej obecności w mieszkaniu. Zabrali rodziców i rodzeństwo, ona została sama. Miała wtedy zaledwie kilka lat.

Podobnie jak Edith Stein nawróciła się na chrześcijaństwo, i co ciekawe, podobny był także sposób, w jaki to się stało. O ile jednak Edith Stein szukała prawdy, Sarah Ashran szukała miłości. Edith Stein odwiedziła przyjaciół i w ich bibliotece znalazła pisma św. Teresy. Czytała je całą noc. Kiedy nad ranem odłożyła książkę, powiedziała: „Znalazłam prawdę”. Podobnie Sarah znalazła w hotelowym pokoju na Florydzie Biblię, Nowy Testament, i czytała tę Księgę całą noc. Rano wiedziała, że jest Ktoś, kto ją kocha. Parafrazując powiedzenie Edyty Stein, można by powiedzieć, że Sarah znalazła Miłość. Św. Teresa od Jezusa przez jej pisma pomogła Edycie Stein odnaleźć prawdę. Edith Stein z kolei przez swoje życie pomogła Sarze Ashran okryć miłość Pana Jezusa i znaleźć odpowiedź na wiele pytań, które nosiła przez całe jej dorosłe życie. (c.d.n.)
