The 'Day of the Eucharist' During the 'Year of the Eucharist'

What a festive day we are encountering! During the year dedicated to the Eucharist by our late Holy Father John Paul II we are now at the day which celebrates, nine weeks after Holy Thursday, the living God among us in the bread and wine consecrated at Mass as the now Body and Blood of Jesus. This year the feast happens to fall within the month of May, the month so closely associated with the Mother of God. Our late Holy Father, John Paul II provides us with the following wonderful meditation, the conclusion of the encyclical which I've been sharing with you since last October.

62. Let us take our place, dear brothers and sisters, at the school of the saints, who are the great interpreters of true Eucharistic piety. In them the theology of the Eucharist takes on all the splendor of a lived reality; it becomes 'contagious' and, in a manner of speaking, it 'warms our hearts.' Above all, let us listen to Mary Most Holy, in whom the mystery of the Eucharist appears, more than in anyone else, as a mystery of light. Gazing upon Mary, we come to know the transforming power present in the Eucharist. In her we see the world renewed in love. Contemplating her, assumed body and soul into heaven, we see opening up before us those "new heavens and that "new earth" which will appear at the second coming of Christ. Here below, the Eucharist represents their pledge, and, in a certain way, their anticipation: "Veni Domine Iesu!" ("Come Lord Jesus") (Rev. 22:20).

In the humble signs of bread and wine, changed into His body and blood, Christ walks beside us as our strength and our food for the journey, and He enables us to become, for everyone, witnesses of hope. If, in the presence of this mystery, reason experiences its limits, the heart, enlightened by the grace of the Holy Spirit, clearly sees the response that is demanded, and bows low in adoration and unbounded love.
Pope John Paul II, Ecclesia de Eucharistia.

THE BODY OF CHRIST...

...is sunbathing?

Years ago, Saint Stan's provided me with my first ever Corpus Christi procession experience. It is one that I will never forget, since I'd never had something like this as a kid or in any other assignment. It was a beautiful and sunny day (legend has it that, for the last 130 years or so, it has only rained three times on Corpus Christi!) and the procession was festive and reverent. As we neared the left turn from 69th Street on to Forman, off to the left was an unexpected sight. A young woman lay sunbathing on her front lawn, apparently unfazed by the hundreds of prayerful onlookers passing by and singing the praises of God. One can imagine that the teenage guys in the procession were especially moved to some kind of prayer, too!

Some in the crowd were clearly upset by this. How could someone be so brazen as to flaunt skin while a religious procession passed by? But others in the crowd seemed to get a different message. We are all the Body of Christ, not only the ones in the procession singing the hymns, but also those who stayed in bed, those who mowed their lawns, and even those who were bronzing in the mid-day sun.

A good friend of mine who is a friar and priest told me that, when he distributes Communion, he often thinks about the person he is giving Communion to, and what might be going on in the life and heart of that person. In his mind, he concludes his presentation of "The Body of Christ," with a silent phrase of his own. For example, he'll say "The Body of Christ... and think silently "...looks sad today." Or, "...seems happy now." Or, "...is old." Or, "...is full of energy." And so on.

We are all the Body of Christ, not only the ones in the procession singing the hymns, but also those who stay in bed, those who mow their lawns, and even those who are bronzing in the mid-day sun.

If you were to look in each other's faces today, and think of each other as revealing the Body of Christ, how would you describe that Body? You would see that the Body of Christ, revealed at the Shrine Church of Saint Stanislaus, is old, middle-aged, young, Polish, Hispanic, Black, Asian, poor, wealthy, working, underemployed, sick, healthy, tired, hopeful, cynical, enthusiastic, devoted, lukewarm, suburban, Village, professional, blue-collar, married, divorced, single, gay, straight, frightened, brave, military, pacifist, broken, healed. There are even, God help us, Steelers fans!

When we make our procession with the Blessed Sacrament through the neighborhood, we are announcing to all we meet that Christ is here in our midst, and the people who gather in his name are happy indeed. We are also presenting ourselves as a sign that points to the Real Presence. May the clarity of our sign value be obvious to all who earnestly seek meaning, value, and hope in their world and in our city. The Body of Christ is...

BOZE CIAŁO

Tak popularnie nazywana jest Uroczystość Najświętszego Ciała i Krwi Chrystusa. W ten dzień wychodzimy na ulice miast i osiedli niosąc ze sobą Najświętszy Sakrament. To wyraz naszej manifestacji religijnej. Czy na pewno? Warto zapytać siebie: Po co wychodzę na ulice w procesji za Chrystusem w monstrancji?

Do jednego z największych współczesnych teologów, Karla Rahnera, napisał kiedyś młody człowiek z Austrii: „Prawdziwy chrześcijanin uczeszcza zwykle na Msze niedzielne. Ja prawie nigdy tego nie robię! Muszę otwarcie się przyznać, że częściowo z lenistwa, przede wszystkim jednak, dlatego, że ... On do mnie nie odpierca, przede wszystkim nasuwa się pytanie: Ilu ze współczesnych katolików podpisałoby się pod wypowiedzią młodego Austriaka, a ilu z nas pójdzie w procesji oddać hołd Chrystusowi w Eucharystii, ilu zaś tylko popatrzyć?

To prawda, że nikt nie ma monopolu na jakość wiary, na jej intensywność, zaangażowanie w nią. W nasze życie wpisane są zwątpienia, ale one mają służyć rozwojowi wiary w nas, jej dojrzewaniu. Dzieje się to w bardzo zwykły sposób, poprzez nasze rozważanie Bożych tajemnic, modlitwę, życie sakramentami. Choć do niektórych Bóg może przemawiać w sposób cudowny, nadzwyczajny; to jednak rzadkość, ale się zdarza. Potwierdza to cud w Macerata, we Włoszech. Rankiem 15 kwietnia 1356 r., pewien kapłan odprawiał Msze św. w kościele Benedyktynek. Podczas konsekracji dopuścił się on krótkiej chwili zwątpienia w realną obecność Chrystusa w Eucharystii, gdy nagle przy łamaniu Chleba, z Hostii popłynęła krew. Rece mu zadrzały i krople krwi upadły na korporal pod kielichem. Po zakonczeniu Mszy św. kapłan pospieszył do biskupa, który nakazał splamiony korporal poddać kanonicznemu badaniu w katedrze. Cud ten został porównany do słynnego cudu w Bolsena z 1236 r., który dał początek świętu Bożego Ciała. Komisja potwierdziła autentyczność cudu i korporal z plamami krwi został wystawiony do publicznej adoracji. Krwawe plamy wyraźnie widoczne na korporale, uznane są za Najświętszą Krew Zbawiciela. Relikwiarz zawierający cenny skarb przetrwał burzliwe koleje losu a jego zawartość do dziś czczona jest w katedrze w Macerata - szczególnie w oktawie Bożego Ciała.

W niejednym z nas rodzi się pokusa myśli: Gdybym ja ujrzał podobny cud, to na pewno nie byłoby we mnie wątpliwości? A przecież tyle cudów, może nie tak spektakularnych, obserwujemy wokół nas i jakos gorliwość wiary nie wzrasta. Wreć można by usłyszeć zupełnie inne stwierdzenia: Od tego nie przybedzie mi chleba na stole, ani zdrowia w chorobie. Co konkretnego daje mi wiara?

Przyjaciele św. Tomasza Morusa zarzucali mu, że częste przystępowanie do Komunii Świętej i jego pobożność zabierają mu zbyt wiele czasu, szkodzić obowiązkom kanclerza Anglii. Święty tak im odpowiedział: „Powody dla których chcesz odciągnąć mnie od Komunii Świętej są takimi samymi, dla których ja tak często pragnę przyjmować Ciało Pańskie. Wiele rzeczy zaprzata moja uwagę, ale właśnie przy Komunii Świętej mogę zebrać swe myśli w medytacji. Pokusy przychodzą często w ciągu dnia, ale właśnie w Komunii Świętej znajduje moc, by je pokonać. Wielkie obowiązki wymagają mądrości i światła, ale właśnie w Komunii Świętej spotykam się z Chrystusem by prosić o radę”.

This past Wednesday our school children in grades Kindergarten thru the Fourth Grade were treated to Lisa Umina's unique presentation. It was Umina's relationship with God that set her on a quest to teach and inspire and ultimately influence lives the way she feels God has influenced hers. The author is known for the unique impersonations of well-known character voices; the munchkins from the Wizard of Oz, ET, the gopher from Winnie the Pooh and many more. Her special presentation for our kids featured the main character from her recent book "Milo with a Halo," published by Halo Publishing Co. 216-642-0861, www.halopublishing.com
