Kościół Mariacki

I think it would be justifiable to say that the Basilica of Our Lady in the very center of Kraków is the true heart of the city, (Wawel Cathedral being the cultural and historical heart of the country). Holding a place of honor on the town square, one of the most beautiful of its type in the world, the church has served as the spiritual center of the city for many centuries. Since the time of the final Tartar raids on the city in 1287 the construction of the church and the entire town chartered in 1257 by Prince Boleslaus proceeded to move from its Romanesque foundations creeping toward the Gothic steadily over the next two centuries.

Upon entering the church one is overwhelmed by colors, gold, images and carvings of saints and sinners, angels and nobles, demons and animals—as if all of creation is singing praise to Mary and to her Son. The walls of the chancel are a polychromatic chant of angels singing the Litany of Our Lady. Designed by Poland’s foremost painter, Jan Matejko, these images jump to life, invoking Mary’s intercession continually.

The true centerpiece of the chancel is the High Altar designed by Veit Stoss, a sculptor from Nurenburg. The artist was commissioned in 1477 to create the gigantic Gothic pentaptych which detailed various biblical events related to Mary’s life, the centerpiece being her dormition and assumption into heaven. This altar has become Stoss’s most famous work, known the world over as the most important representative of the high gothic school of woodcarving. Its central theme echoes the peculiar situation of Central Europe’s position as the buffer between Eastern and Western empires, with the representation of the death of the Mother of God in terms of both spheres, i.e., her ‘falling asleep’ in the arms of the apostles (Eastern) as well as her bodily assumption into heaven (Western).

TABLE FELLOWSHIP

Food and eating are part and parcel of our daily human life. Some people eat to live, while others live to eat.

Today's first and gospel readings focus on food and eating.

In the Old Testament reading the prophet Elisha receives "twenty barley loaves made from the first fruits and fresh grain in the ear" and tells his servant to feed a hundred men. The servant objected that a hundred men could not be fed adequately with twenty barley loaves. But Elisha insisted and said that the Lord said this and promised that "they shall eat and there shall be some left over." And it actually happened as the Lord had commanded.

The responsorial psalm (Ps. 45) refrain is a response to that happening and others like it: "The hand of the Lord feeds us; he answers all our needs." The eating and feeding and the leftovers are attributed to God.

The gospel selection is a compliment to the Old Testament reading. It affirms that God feeds his people in and through Jesus the Christ and that there is more than enough for all.

As in the Old Testament reading there is little to eat for a great crowd. One lad had five barley loaves and a couple of dried fish. Like the prophet Elisha, Jesus told his disciples to feed the assembled people. Simon Peter's brother objected: "What good is that for so many?" There were about five thousand men. Jesus "gave thanks, and passed them around to those reclining there; he did the same with the dried fish." When everyone had their fill "they gathered twelve baskets full of pieces left over by those who had been fed." Indeed, the hand of the Lord fed his people,

Is the hand of the Lord still feeding His people and answering all their needs? What do you say?

I believe that the hand of the Lord is feeding his people in this day and age (and will continue to do so) not primarily because the people deserve it, but because God is generous and cares for his people. God knows that his people are hungry, not only for material food, which is temporary and necessary, but for food that feeds the spirit and the soul, and that lasts forever.

At every Eucharistic celebration (the Mass) this is what the Lord does. In the first part of the Liturgy God feeds his people—you and me—with his word, which is meant to nourish and strengthen the spirit and soul. In the second part God our Father feeds us with the body and blood of His Son Jesus. God gives himself to us totally so that we might in turn give ourselves totally to others.

We call this eating and feeding "table fellowship." By eating at the same table of the Lord we become what we eat and thus are expected to share ourselves with others who are in need. There are always "plenty of leftovers," meaning that there is more than enough of nourishment and strength which "the hand of the Lord" supplies to be and do what the Lord requires of us.

Some people question God caring for his people. They say: how can God care when there are so many people who are hungry and need to be fed? Why doesn't God do something? God does something, in fact many things. One of the things God does is God inspires people like you and me to help feed them in spirit and body. Peace and Good! Fr. Cam, ofm

BYĆ DOBRYM JAK CHLEB

Czasami myślimy, że jesteśmy w gorszej sytuacji niż współczesni Jezusowi, który dwa tysiące lat temu chodził po palestyńskiej ziemi. Wówczas ludzie mogli Go zobaczyć na własne oczy, mogli Go dotknąć, jak kobieta kananejska cierpiąca na krwotok, mogli słuchać Jego głosu, jak przemawiał i nauczał w przypowieściach, mogli doznać od Niego uzdrowienia, gdy kładł na nich rękę, mogli przyjąć od Niego chleb i ryby, by posilić się w drodze do domu... Mogli..., ale czy wszyscy skorzystali z obecności Jezusa Chrystusa — Syna Bożego na ziemi?

Działalność publiczna Jezusa miała ograniczony zasięg terytorialny: to przede wszystkim tereny wokół Jeziora Galilejskiego. To także niewielki wymiar czasowy: trzy lata nauczania słowami i przykładem własnego życia, aż do śmierci krzyżowej na Kalwarii. Jezus jednak nie pozostawił nas sierotami. Cudowne rozmnożenie chleba: "pięć chlebów i dwie ryby", dzięki którym Jezus nakarmił rzeszę, a uczniowie zebrali jeszcze dwanaście koszów ułamków, jest zapowiedzią chleba eucharystycznego. Znamienne jest, że Jezus, najpierw nakarmił zgłodniały tłum, dając tym do zrozumienia, że ważne jest dla człowieka pożywienie, ważne jest odzienie, ważne zatroskanie o rodzinę, pracę i utrzymanie... Ale to nie może być najważniejsze w jego życiu, bo to nie wystarczy, aby nie "ustać" w drodze do nieba...

Nakarmiony przez Jezusa tłum, nie potrafił zrozumieć zapowiedzi ustanowienia Eucharystii w Kafarnaum... Większość ludzi odeszła od Jezusa mówiąc: "Trudna jest ta mowa, którą ją zdoła zrozumieć". Myśmy pozostali i uwierzyli w Jezusa Chrystusa, jedynego Zbawiciela świata i jedyne nasze bogactwo. Tę wiarę przekazaną nam przez rodziców i dziadków staramy się pielęgnować i podtrzymywać, aby ją przekazać nowym pokoleniom.

Historia i ziemski los, w poszukiwaniu "codziennego chleba", wielu naszych Rodaków zaprowadziło do Ameryki. Na zaproszenie o. Michael'a — proboszcza sanktuarium św. Stanisława w Cleveland, mam okazję po raz pierwszy być w tym wielkim i urokliwym kraju. Z radością spotkałem się z Polonią z Cleveland i wirniami, którzy gromadzą się wokół kościoła św. Stanisława. Patrząc na wielokulturowość i mozaikę ludzkich twarzy, na bogactwo i szybkie tempo życia, życzę wszystkim moim Rodakom, aby umacniali swoją wiarę, aby dzielili się bogactwem polskiej tradycji, zwyczajów i kultury, aby umieli integrować się i współpracować z lokalnym Kościołem, który jak wszystkie kościoły, ma swój początek w Jerozolimie.

W Ziemi Świętej w Tabgha — w sanktuarium rozmnożenia chleba i ryb znajduje się w prezbiterium starożytna mozaika. Artysta wokół skały, na której Jezus dokonał cudownego rozmnożenia, przedstawił kosz z chlebami, a po bokach dwie ryby. W koszu umieścił jednak tylko cztery chleby, bowiem piąty chleb, to ołtarz, na którym podczas każdej Eucharystii, chleb staje się Ciałem Chrystusa na życie wieczne.

Bądźcie drodzy Rodacy dobrzy jak chleb, aby każdy kto jest w potrzebie mógł sięgnąć po ten chleb i ukroić sobie tyle ile potrzeba. Dzielcie się wiarą i chlebem, a Bóg będzie Wam błogosławił. o. Nikodem OFM

ST. STANS HISTORICAL FACT

Father Benedict Rosinski was Pastor of our Parish from 1892– 1905. Immigrants continued to arrive in increasing numbers. The numbers of parishioners needing spiritual attention grew. Father Rosinski devoted himself almost exclusively to the sacramental ministry. He officiated at nearly all of the 5,894 baptisms, 918 marriages, and 2072 burials, of which 1,660 were children during his 14 years of service to our Parish.

THE POPE ON LIFE

“Consequently, everything is connected: the deepest option for the Crucified Christ with the most complete option for life, from the very first moment until the very last. To me this also seems in some way the nucleus of our pastoral care : to help people make the true choice for life, to renew their relationship with God as the relationship which gives us life and shows us the way to life. And thus, to love Christ anew, who from being the most unknown Being whom we did not reach and who remained enigmatic, became a known God, a God with a human face, a God who is love.” (Pope Benedict XVI, March 2006 meeting with priests)
